A PLEA FOR THE NAVY

As will be seen from our despatches, the Canadian Pacific Railway has itself decided to construct the Crows Nest Pass Rail-way under the supervision of Mr. Hailey who has been engaged in the work of construction.

Mr. Hailey has already advertised for tenders for the grading of two blocks of 50 miles each, beginning at Lethbridge and it is proposed to have the road in by the end of the month.

It is to be hoped that in the work of construction the rights of the labourer will not be forgotten and that the lessons learned during the construction of the Crows Nest Pass Edmonton road will not be lost sight of.

In that case the contract for the building of the road was subdivided by the original contractors among a number of subcontractors, and the men engaged in their work among a number of others, who were willing to undertake the job at a price which left them little or no margin for profit.

The result in one or two cases was that the subcontractors did not pay all the money to whom he was entitled, but neglected to pay the labourers he had employed.

The workman had no redress whatever as the delinquent subcontractor had no available recourse except to the man to whom he was entitled from his employer.

A number of men who had worked faithfully at the hardest possible kind of manual labour were in this way defrauded of their wages and were turned adrift without a dollar after the season's work.

This thing should not be allowed to occur again. If the labourer is worthy of his hire the C. P. R. Co. should see that he gets it, now.

We trust they have a chance.

It is not always the loudest preacher who is the wisest man. A Baptist clergyman in New York declares his church must take no money from millionaire Rockefellers because his hands are uncleansed. He who took the bread and stave, for no church could be sure that the money it received had always passed through honest hands.

Then again, if Mr. Rockefeller is a good man, Rev. Mr. Cosson would refuse him the only practical method of repayment and sacrifice, and do his best to chuck him into outer darkness.

The Globe, which Mr. Oliver recently said did not always speak the truth, has been trying to scare the Senate by threats into acquiescing in all legislation that would be good, bad or indifferent—and because the upper chamber protested against the impudent grant to the Canadian Pacific Railway, the House of Commons voted with it with partisanship and all kinds of political crimes. Generally speaking, the Globe is an excellent and carefully edited paper, but it occasionally shows that it is not a merely partisan as any of the back township weeks.

The thirsty earth soaks up the rain
And drinks and gapes for drink again.

The plants suck in the earth, and are
With constant drinking fresh and fair.

Mr. Debs, who a few years ago was leading a revolt against law and order in the States, is now at the head of a scheme to found a co-operative Utopia where 10,000 unemployed and penniless shall find comfort and happiness. A doubt having been expressed as to the prospects of the success of the scheme the Hamilton Spectator says all Debs has to do is to "go to the people to tell them what he wants." The idea is to get on some island where he can have absolute free trade, to purchase everything he needs for his colony from outsiders, and to run the machine according to the episodes of the young Henry George. It's as easy as falling off a log.

The rush to England from all parts of the world for the Jubilee is now explained. Four million extra bottles of champagne had been imported for the occasion.

SPRINGBANK ITEMS

Tee Crops Well Irrigated and Making Rapid Progress—A Very Successful Race Meet.

The crops have made great strides since the last report and are exceeding the fields of Charles Ostroem, who has three feet high and his other grain crops consist of wheat, barley and oats which are all looking well. If the weather proves favorable we may have a bumper crop of wheat and barley, if not thousands of bushels of grain.

Mr. Ostroem seems not to be afraid of agricultural prospectus, however, and has taken a purchase of more land from the C.P.R., adjoining his present place.

Some of the crops are in the early stages of growth, but the wheat and barley are well enough along to be harvested, if not thousands of bushels of grain.

The threshing is done and the grain is being put on the land which may account for the crop not looking so places.

Springbank celebrated Dominion Day with a grand gathering of citizens yesterday. The day was cool and nice, and although rain threatened at noon, the sun shone brightly and the enjoyment of the day. Almost everybody from Calgary who could get away came to the races.

The heat being so long in the afternoon prevented many from being up on the land which may account for the crop not looking so places.

The City Gaily Decorated—A Whole Day of Athletic Sports, 1—Sports and Work Hard—A Successful Concert in the Evening.

The celebration of the Dominion Day will be a success, but Calgary is not the only place where there is a great interest in the sports and games.

The Fire Brigade band did its full duty, making the programme very pretty full one. The weather was just right, and just threatening enough to keep many in town who might otherwise have gone.

The arrangements were in the hands of Mr. W. H. Rogers, Mr. J. Smart, Tom Tarrant, Beets and Flinn, and the great receipts at the races were due to the efforts of Mr. Johnstone, Mr. Knowlton, Industrial school, 2.

THE GOVERNMENT'S RECORD

The session of Parliament which terminated so abruptly last Tuesday night will be followed down as an eventful one by all in Canada. For the first time in 18 years a Liberal Government was given an opportunity to carry out the pledges of which the party was so fruitful while in opposition. The session, however, was somewhat peculiar, as well as considerably different from what might have been reasonably expected. The two principal features of the session were the budget and the various schemes for spending money. The tariff, which was held up as the great work to be carried out, has been a source of serious disagreement between the Liberal and the Conservative parties, and in the old one shows that the principle of Protection is maintained and that no practical benefit has resulted to the Western farmers whose position was yearly aggravated while the old tariff was supported by Liberal orators as an outrage and the end is not yet. The preferential clauses, which are after all the main object of the tariff, are still in the air, and until a definite decision on the question is given by the Imperial authorities it is difficult to say what is the effect the clause.

The proposed expenditures are, to say the least, ambitious. The public debt has been increased by $23,000,000 since the Liberal Government took office, and the expenditure for the year will exceed that of the present year as that of the present year exceeds that of the last year of Conservative rule. In this there is the Crown's New Deal. But it is to be sincerely grateful for, although the plan of construction seems to have varied a good deal since the general election. The road is often all to be paid by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, under restrictions which may mean anything or nothing, according to circumstances. The great point gained, however, is considerable economy on the road, which should prove of immense benefit to Western Canada. The fast Atlantic service has also materialized, notwithstanding the opposition of Western Liberal members.

The Drummond County railway deal caused a good deal of trouble during the last hours of the session, and from what has since transpired it would seem as if a good deal of benefit will result from the discussion which took place as well as from the action of the Senate. The pledge given at the last meeting by a Minister of the Crown that the Senate would allow the vote of temporary lease to go through notwithstanding would be done which would commit the country to the proposed deal, leaves Parliament free to consider the scheme after a proper enquiry into its details. Judging by whispers which have come from Ottawa there will probably be some interesting developments when this Drummond county deal comes under the search light of an investigating committee.

The franchise bill, the Superannuation bill, and the Post Office bill were passed, and there remains the tariff bill, which is the fast Atlantic service and the Crows Nest Pass railway as the net results of the session's work which affect the West. The moral to be derived depends in the application of it. Those who believe that a Liberal Government like the king can do no wrong are of course satisfied with every action of Parliament, while those who see in every act of their opponents a plot to injure the country will not be slow to find fault. Looked at from a fair and dispassionate point of view it must be conceded that the construction of the Crows Nest Pass railway is a matter of great importance, especially when the West must doubtless benefit. The fast Atlantic service will probably be productive of good among eastern members, but it has yet to be shown what its advantages are.

West comes in. As for the same cause something more than the old regime, the West is not sufficiently great to be of overwhelming effect. That the Government's performances have come far short of its promises must be the conclusion of the unprejudiced onlooker.

REWARDING THE FAITHFUL

The Regina Leader, which seems to have assumed the position of chief Government organ in the West, reports the following documents and appointments this week:

"The discharge of War, Legion and Patriotic Affairs, the staff of the Regina Registry office took effect yesterday. The staff is evidently to suffer reduction as only one appointment to fill the vacant places has been made. Major McLean, the new appointee, will go on duty tomorrow."

"Mr. John Dobbin succeeded his predecessor as the Legion head yesterday. It is not stated whether Mr. Dobbin's dismissal was due to political interference, to man or to personal continuance in office. At any rate no appointment to his place has been announced."

"Mr. L. Rankin, who has been appointed to the Hudson's Bay post of Fort Assiniboine this week, Mr. Rankin expects to locate a couple of townships of Galician immigrants in Regina district."

Some very silly threats are being made against the Senate because that body, as a portion of the Legislature, saw fit to check the expenditure of an enormous sum of money proposed by the Commons, merely as an experiment. It is to be hoped that this is the last time the Senate becomes really useful to the people, and its value as a check on hasty or ill-advised legislation will now be fully realized.

Isn't it time Calgary was thinking about beef packing houses? Situated as we are—the chief trade centre of the finest cattle country in the world, with markets both east and west, meat canning should be one of Calgary's greatest industries. British Columbians eat salmon; why not Alberta's beef?

Principal Chisholm, of the Argus Publishing Co., has been appointed Inspector of Schools and Agencies. The Herald is pleased to note that its suggestion in this matter has met with so ready a response.

The Government has done well in providing money to settle the long standing dispute over lots in the National Park.

A NEW ARRIVAL

SONG TO CANADA

Hail Canada, the young Dominion—fair land of hill and dale! Through thy forest and thy prairie, thy water song, and the lover's melting tale And giant-like pine trees tell us of the stormy days when they have stood tall at the edge of rocky sides, the flashing torrents sweep, Through meadows and through glades all laughing to the deep; Through wood and tangled forests, through flowers gay, the breezes sweeps o'er land, And the winds blow in the month of May. How grandly with deep Canada, the story of thy birth, the struggles of that patriot band of men who made thy nation strong, Told by the swelling waves as they roll, And by the forts and stockades now crumbling to decay.

When the sun goes down, the day is past, the hands battle with forest fox, And won each way, the field, the mountain, with their gore, Ah! tis the grand old story of man's strength that stands today, through every, a patriotic life.

I bear with pride, Canadian hearts, our national birthday, And sing in swelling anthems, our national hymn, Our quartered shield on England's flag, we are proud to lift, and high, a banner of freedom, to the world, to fill it to conquer or to die.

We will stand by England's dangers, Where her home is assailed, In battle the sword, with Britain's strength, we hold our heads high.

Our fathers went with Nelson to triumph on the deck, Our heroes won the day, their colors up, Alma's bloody steed,

Through mud and mire, through Wellington, through India, France and Spain—

Our sons combated 'gainst England will find us steel again.

There Arctic cold, and frosts and snows, and blizzards, and the northward winds blow fierce, over a continent's expanse the northern winds blow fierce, and the snows blow fierce, over a continent's expanse the northern winds blow fierce, and the snows blow fierce.

The hearts that beat in Canada are warm, and resolute, and bold, And heat responds to the thrill, that fills the bones of the warrior, when he stands by his side, still uphold her fate, And when the world is at her feet, we emulate her deeds.

No lack of Scotch or Irish, of politics or creed, There you lie, young Dominion! loudest gem in Victoria's crown.

March onward march, thy youth to let Men march on park in nation's strife Let England's honour—British pluck be thine to keep and care.

There is a land of a thousand years, our own as he's to shield, in proud defiance waves to day, o'er mighty cataract streams.

The hearts that beat in Canada are warm, and resolute, and bold, And heat responds to the thrill, that fills the bones of the warrior, when he stands by his side,

Still uphold her fate, And when the world is at her feet, we emulate her deeds.

How tall thou art all! our young Dominion grand.

Let every voice give forth its cheer to thee, To the world, to fill it to conquer or to die.

With sky and mount on top hand, and waters kiss each shore With the heart of a lion, we are all, All round the world, joyful shouts in honour of the day.

And heat responds to the thrill, that fills the bones of the warrior, when he stands by his side,

Still uphold her fate, And when the world is at her feet, we emulate her deeds.

CHORUS

Then comes the wide world over

Torid, temperate, frigid zone

As far as eye can see, the world is filled

Our fair Dominion home.

They are also to put in a sawmill for their own use. The work on the concentrator is being done. Prospectors are still putting in at from 20 to 30 feet a day.

The new mill will be able to handle 200 men in the hills round Lardeau and the new town will be well-named continually. In fact so numerous are they that it is impossible to give them all names. One prospector has made one or more houses, two or three are one and have dispersed the entire mine and are now in Kootenay.

Woman's

WORLD

A Weekly Column
Conducted by
ALICE HUNTINGDON
For Her Readers

It is now two months since the Cherry Fair in Paris, yet our papers are full of it. Friend, if her journalists speak the truth, has taken the disgrace to heart. That the men should have lacked chivalry and courage in time of danger, they should have been equally shocked and kicking out of their way women for whom a man's life was their first resource and love, this was too shameful to be easily forgotten.

Mr J. D. B. has been good enough to explain himself. The flowers he wrote of were before the Japanese invasion, and the red lilies and peacock.

Alstroemeria cleavers are very delicate white forget me not.

The red roses every one knows. They grow in the time of life that now the Bow Marsh bridge has gone and no more.

Mr J. D. B. further says that is no more common name than pyro, but that the flower is called pyro and I think the person in ordinary calls it wintergreen.

Dishelved rounded leaves all clustered at the base and a long stem with a single flower at the top. There is a great deal of it over on Prince's Island. This, at the present moment, is the most popular flower.

If you have not found them for yourself you will be glad to learn that they are very rare. Those who have the prairie now, the wild gourds will do well. The flowers are very graceful, especially the pink or chrysanthemum crested. Early variety of 15 and later kinds keep in continued flower.

That was a bold man who chose Stephen Avenue for the scene of his first biking lesson. He'd drawn a crowd with his first fall, but it was worth it. The crowd had a beautiful time. Should I ever lead to ride the spiny road again, I shall always stop at the Sahara or to the Opera House where the new one is in progress. "There are moments when one yearns to be alone."

When Mr. Jones, cheerful son, tried to comfort Mrs. Robinson by remonstrating with her, she said, "I don't like it. Alice! Alice! I don't like it." Alice! Alice! She didn't believe it, nor accept it, until she saw the resurrection. "So we were all in the same boat," said Hood and Jubilee when along came the water famine. It was a touching sight to see the two old ladies, holding tight hand, visiting the nearest neighbor who had not suffered a panic. We must all help each other, waiting for the hot water tank to stop leaking, and the cold water to stop from cold mutton—ugh! cold mutton and groceries for three days, but we did it.

It was a hard winter, but we never cowered in the pipes and in came the snow to restore the land it had stolen. However, it always a painful accident if a tree falls on the garden, especially while the wicked gardens are running through our hands. That must be a bad omen, for more, what should be ushered in but fire?"

And so it is to be lived through again. The little ink seed thing in my pocket is still there, though it is dead and I hasten to call up the asterisks to stave off heading tony.

That reminds me of something in the Globe the other day, may it never happen to us. "Don't be it is!"

The sailor clapped the fat span:

"The captain said he really thought He was no 'n' he neck."

—New York American Tribune.

A thing as tragic as that ready needs to be left to submit the following:

The captain swore in steady prose,

"That set the skull to rolling?"

The shakers stoked the fire.

We've heard all our lives of the "heat of the storm" and now they are actually in the possession of THE HERALD, look out for getting information! —HERALD, June 23.

White's New York edition of Review of Reviews is saying that "Americans may be pardoned if they do not consider that the political and the imitation of royalty as a mark of the prominent divines of the same city is a natural consequence."

"It has been a long reign, and in contemplating it at the feeling it arises in me is that the Queen of Monarchy is better than a President."

The Armenians waiting for the intervention of the powers.

The Greeks and Cretans waiting for the decision of the powers.

The Turks and Persians waiting for the signature of the powers.

New York Central Park Committee members have modestly rejected Gray Hartwell's state of Park. The Boston Library Committee, however, the Bostons! What would those sensible people say? They would be sure to see the Indians crossing to the Longfellow bridge at flood time. But, I suggest that the Indians had blankets about their shoulders.

It can't be all fun, being a queen if your name happens to be Lily—unless polite always? I am sure that the Japanese and the Americans, for their part, will be happy to keep the king and queen in Hawaii.

THE POPULARITY OF THE DAHLIA RETURNING.

The following is to be for the next four years. The Varieties have some new ones that have been produced by Enthusiasts.

If the dahlia is to be the fashionable flower for the next few years, as indeed it is, then it is only fitting that it should be more deserving of this distinction. The Dahlia, which for many years has been, has been, marvellously improved in its colors, forms and shapes. It is now a flower of great beauty, of great power or chrysanthemum created. Early variety of 15 and later kinds keep in continued flower.
